The best Ontario wines from the 2007 vintage

Image credit: Duarte Da Silva

One Ontario winemaker after another has been calling 2007 the best vintage ever, crediting perfect conditions and vines that are coming into their own. Most of the prized reds and chardonnays out later this year won't be at the LCBO; visit these wineries for the picks of the crop.

Hidden Bench, Niagara

Known for chardonnay and a sémillon-sauvignon blend, 2007 favours pinot noirs and La Brunante, a Bordeaux-inspired blend.
